

CALL FOR PAPERS

PAKISTAN JOURNAL OF HISTORY & CULTURE

The Pakistan Journal of History and Culture (PJHC) is a well-reputed, double-blind, peer-reviewed, biannual, open-access, HEC-recognized research journal that has been published regularly since 1980 and is available at: <http://pjhc.nihcr.edu.pk/>. The PJHC is one of the leading high-quality journals in Pakistan. In accordance with its Publication Policy, it invites at least two blind peer-review reports from internationally recognized scholars for each article before publication. The journal's themes encompass history, culture, politics, economy, and mysticism, with contributions from national and international authors. We are trying to enhance our outreach. Preliminary pages of all previous issues and complete drafts of the previous PJHC issues published since 1980 can be accessed by anyone, at any time, at <http://pjhc.nihcr.edu.pk/docs/>.

The PJHC Team invites academics, scholars, experts, students, and policymakers in the relevant field to contribute articles to the upcoming issue of the Pakistan Journal of History and Culture. There is no deadline for submitting scholarly contributions; we receive articles throughout the year at <https://pjhc.nihcr.edu.pk/submission-of-papers/>
